THE BENEFITS OF AIIHPC PCRN MEMBERSHIP

AIIHPC PCRN has allowed us to stay informed about relevant developments in palliative care research, policy and practice on the island of Ireland and internationally and has given us a community of health professionals to share health research challenges and solutions with. The PCRN has provided an organised consortium of likeminded researchers in palliative care with a range of relevant skills with whom to collaborate on research projects.

AIIHPC Voices4Care – public patient involvement group has provided us with an opportunity to connect with people with life limiting conditions, their current and bereaved family carers and citizens with a vested interest in palliative care research and exchange experiences, evidenced-based knowledge and engage members in research activities. AIIHPC Voices4Care members are currently serving on the advisory groups for a number of our research projects.

WE ARE KEEN TO COLLABORATE ON:

We would like to connect with researchers at any stage in their career who might consider undertaking research into any aspect of palliative care or a specific life-limiting condition.

We would like to connect and collaborate with researchers in health, science and engineering and health care professionals to support the successful development of practical evidence-based solutions that meet the needs of people with life limiting conditions.

We would like to connect with researchers in the early- to mid-stages of their career to support them to conduct research in the area of palliative care.
